Forecast for Saturday 23 Jul 2022

Weather: A dry and bright start to the day with sunshine, but cloud is expected to soon arrive from the west and will bring a chance for some patchy light rain, especially over the mountain tops. Staying mostly cloudy with perhaps some isolated brighter spells at times. A drier spell through the late morning but a risk of some showery rain through the afternoon.

Chance of cloud-free hill tops above 600m: 100% lowering to 80% by mid-morning. Lowering to 20% for the evening.

Low cloud and visibility: Broken to overcast amounts of cloud with bases above summits move in during the first parts of the morning and will lower to 750 to 900 m in spells of rain. Cloud bases are expected to lower again for the evening with broken or overcast cloud bases at 500-650 m. Generally good visibility, moderate at times in some spells of rain, poor or very poor in cloud over high ground.
